

DCI SUBSTANTIVE INTELLIGENCE OBJECTIVES FOR THE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY - FY 1976

Provide reliable and timely foreign intelligence reports, assessments, and estimates to the President and other elements of the US Government involved in policy formulation, international negotiations, and major operational decisions on the following priority topics:

OBJECTIVE NO. 1

Soviet policies, intentions, and capabilities for the execution of political, security and economic programs, with particular reference to:

- changes in Soviet leadership and the dynamics of and factors affecting Soviet decision making.
- providing early warning of scientific and technical advances which could significantly affect the US national security or national welfare.
- major developments in Soviet military RDT&E of weapons systems, deployment, and order of battle.
- Soviet compliance with the Strategic Arms Limitation agreements, the Limited Test Ban Treaty, possible Mutual Balanced Force Reduction agreements, and the observance of cease-fire or peace treaty arrangements; Soviet perception of US and Allied negotiating positions and force capabilities with respect to these issues.
- Soviet extension of political influence and military power outside of the USSR.

OBJECTIVE NO. 2

Developments within and policies, intentions, decision-making processes, and capabilities of the People's Republic of China in key political, military and economic areas which impact on important interests of the United States, its allies, the USSR, the rest of Asia and the more influential underdeveloped countries.

~~SECRET~~

OBJECTIVE NO. 3

Political and military developments and trends (including terrorism) in potentially volatile international situations of strategic concern to the US.

OBJECTIVE NO. 4

Policies, intentions and capabilities of foreign states other than the USSR and the PRC, to develop nuclear weapons, chemical and biological weapons, and delivery systems to employ them.

OBJECTIVE NO. 5

Major foreign economic developments and trends relevant to US international policy decisions and negotiations, particularly those related to energy, raw materials, food resources, and to international trade arrangements.
